

Paradise on Earth: Le Blanc Spa Resort in Cancun, Mexico

Ah, Cancun! Just thinking about this place I can already hear the serene ocean breeze and imagine those joyful palm trees dancing to the rhythm of the Caribbean winds.

Thanks to the gorgeous Mexican sun, Cancun's temperature remains at an average of 78 degrees Fahrenheit year round. ¡Qué vida!

In order to enjoy Cancun at its absolute best, you should stay somewhere that truly honors paradise. Le Blanc Spa Resort is that place!

Le Blanc Spa Resort is one of the most luxurious all-inclusive adults-only resorts in Cancun.

In fact, the hotel claims they have transformed the "all-inclusive" into the "all-incredible".

Maybe it doesn't sound that humble on their part, but after staying there a week, I completely agree with the "all-incredible" statement.

Le Blanc is so impeccably white and superbly elegant; the hotel easily lives up to its name. The color blends perfectly with the minimalist architectural style to enhance the beautiful tropical surroundings.

When "Pedro" welcomed us with fruit juices as we entered the hotel lobby, I knew he wasn't actually Saint Peter, but I really felt like we were entering Heaven.

Since the romantic Le Blanc is for adults only and each one of their luxurious rooms has a double Jacuzzi, you know there won't be any rowdy "Spring Break-type" crowds staying there.

On the contrary, this is the ideal place for couples on their honeymoon, those celebrating an anniversary, or simply looking to chill the jet-set way.

With a personalized service of almost one staff member per guest, their friendly and extremely professional staff will treat you like royalty. Seriously.
